CHURCH PEOPLE

IN THE NEWS

In this pew

Annual Women's Day will be observed at New Bethel Missionary Baptist Church, 2215 Stovall, at 3 p.m., Sunday, Oct. 17.

The theme of the program will be "Following The Call of Christ," and the song, "I'll Go," has been selected to exemplify the idea.

Mrs. Nellie B. Rogers, from Grace Baptist Church will be the guest speaker, with members of the Phi Rho Sigma Medical Fraternity and the True Vine M.B.C. of Helena, Ark., as guests.

Mrs. Lillie Evans will preside as chairwoman, and Mrs. G. G. Brown is co-chairwoman, with Rev. G. G. Brown as pastor of New Bethel.

PILGRIM BAPTIST CITES 18TH YEAR

The Pilgrim Baptist Church, 2d and Looney has planned a full program honoring Mrs. Lillian Warford for her 18 years service to the United Singing Union.

A member of Pilgrim Baptist for many years, the celebration for Mrs. Warford, will start 7:30 p.m., Sunday, Oct. 17.

The United Singing Union, a group composed of many different churches, under the direction of Mr. R. Royston, cited Mrs. Warford for her 18 years as booking agent for Pilgrim Baptist.

The evening program is highlighted with solos by several choir members, as well as the United Singing Union Choir, the Pilgrim Choir United Chorus, the Veteran Jubilee, the Brewsteraires and the Henderson Ensemble.

After King and Queen runner-up activities, selections by Christian Spring, Mt. Pleasant Choir, a sermon by Rev. T. M. Henderson, and closing remarks by Dr. W. H. T. Brewster, pastor of Pilgrim Baptist are planned.

Mrs. Ophelia Smith will serve as Mistress of Ceremonies. Special guests include the Variety Club, Pastor's Aid Club and the Willing Workers Club of Mt. Pleasant Baptist Church.

Mrs. Mary Davis, Will Rogers and Hosea Bell formed the finance committee, with Andrew Kelley and Mrs. Willie Stewart on the publicity committee.

MACEDONIA LADIES DAY

Macedonia M. B. C. will hold their annual Women's Day celebration Sunday, Oct. 17 at the church, 209 Perry.

Mrs. Rosie Coleman, co-chairwoman of the event said the day long celebration with Mrs. Evelyn Webb as the morning speaker, and Mrs. Auston as the evening orator, is open to all who wish to hear these wonderful speakers.

Mrs. Corine Mallory is chairlady, with Rev. W. C. Ingram as pastor.

Planning church celebration...

Making plans for founders' Day celebrations at Christian Church, on Mississippi Blvd. are (front l-r) Mrs. Ambie Brown, Mrs. Ann Weathers (general chairman) and Mrs. Cornelia Mims (co-chairman). Standing in rear are (l-r) Mr. L.H. Jackson, Mrs. Cenetta Qualls, Eldridge Williams (program chairman) Mrs. Alene Lowe and Albert Brown. Several churches are expected to participate in the Oct. 31 celebration which starts at 11:00 a.m.

Attention Churches

The Tri-State Defender seeks all news from church organizations wishing publicity for their various social functions. It shall not be the policy of this paper to fix a charge on individuals or groups seeking publication for such publicity. Our request is that news be typed double-spaced whenever possible as handwriting is occasionally illegible, and that copy be submitted by Thursday of each week for the next edition. Pictures of individuals or small groups are welcomed also at no charge and will be used at the earliest convenience. We cannot guarantee publication or return of any copy or pictures, but we will try to serve you... the community...

Shelton tours Europe

His Eminence Bishop S. McDowell Shelton arrived in Switzerland recently on the invitation of several leading UN organizations, headquartered in Geneva.

Following a courtesy visit with Mr. Donze, President of the Canton (State) of Geneva and Mayor Buensod, The Bishop conferred with Mr. A. Tevoedjre, General Manager of the International Labor Organization. His Eminence Bishop Shelton discussed at length the urgent matters involving help and assistance for the migrant workers. His Eminence expressed his concern for the underprivileged large groups of migrant workers in the United States in particular and discussed the ways and means of alleviating the burdens and the plight of these people.

Dr. Bellerive, a native of Haiti and one of the directors of The World Health Organization reported to The Bishop on the current tasks of this important UN body. His Eminence promised his Church's cooperation in coping with several problems confronting the World Health Organization.

The plight of the Palestinian refugees was one of Bishop Shelton's major preoccupations and Mr. Warren A. Pinegar of the UN High Commissioner's Office for Refugees, exchanged views and consulted with His Eminence on the immediate problems, confronting the refugee camp in the Near East. Also present, Mr. Ralph Owen of the UN Relief Organization for the Palestinian Refugees.

His Eminence assured full cooperation of The Church of the Lord Jesus Christ of the Apostolic Faith and its five million members in the U. S., Europe, Africa and India.

Emotions tour while recording for Stax

THE EMOTIONS

Staple Singers visit Memphis

The Staple Singers were in town last week putting the finishing touch on their soon to be released album.

During their visit they got involved in a bit of politics. They were honored at a reception given by Mrs. Maxine Smith, secretary of Memphis' NAACP, and Attorney Walter Bailey, Jr., at the Peyton Place Supper Club. Both Mrs. Smith and Bailey won the elections in which they were involved.

Master of ceremonies for the occasion was the Honorable Judge Otis Higgs.

able Judge Otis Higgs.

"Black people all over the world should be particularly proud of the Staple Singers and their contribution to music, the only heritage we can truly claim as our own," Higgs stated.

"For years the Staple Singers served as an inspiration to a people who have long been burdened with the trials of oppression in their fight for equality and recognition," Higgs continued.

The Staple Singers are noted for their down to earth philosophic songs that depict the themes "Peace love, and freedom," usually in a gospel-folk style.

The group consisting of three sisters (Yvonne, Cleo and Mavis) and their father (Roebuck "Pops"), has continually made exclusive tours throughout Europe, Asia and Africa. The family team also appeared in the "Soul To Soul" movie that was recently released.

During the Peyton Place ceremony, the Staple Singers sang "When Will We Be Paid For The Work We've Done" and "Everything Is Going To Be All Right."

Dr. Vasco Smith (standing in for wife, Maxine) and Bailey presented a "Plaque of Appreciation" to the group. Miss Deanie Parker, director of public relations for Stax, also presented a gift to the group from the Stax family.

Stax production facility was very busy last week with various entertainers cutting singles and albums. But most of the male attention was drawn to three beautiful young ladies who hail from the "Windy City." Known as the Emotions, these young ladies deserved every bit of the attention they got. Besides extremely good looking, they are also very talented.

Though rehearsals and cutting take up much of their time, the Emotions did get to see some of Memphis. They were worried about the reaction of their manager, Pervis Staple, who gets very upset when they miss one rehearsal.

Deanie Parker Stax Public Relations director, decided the Emotions needed a little breathing time, so she took them to see the Zoo.

The only problem was how to explain to Pervis that they were hanging around the monkey cage at Overton Park Zoo with Deanie Parker.

Staple said, "I was mad at first but when I found the Emotions were with Deanie Parker I calmed down."

What about the personality of the three young ladies who captivated Stax? Sheila Hutchinson, Wanda Hutchinson and Theresa Davis are charming, intelligent, down to earth and soulful.

"Our style is mostly doing harmony. It's more of a class thing," comments Wanda, "and we use more variety in singing."

Their father, (Daddy) Joseph Hutchinson and their manager agree the Emotions can sing anything, and sing it well.

Wanda stated, "Daddy doesn't want us to be established as a certain kind of group that sings certain kinds of things."

Miss Parker says about their style, "perhaps the name Emotions connotes their unique style. Emotions are variable. They can be sad, happy, moody, angry, violent, sassy, etc."

Daddy Hutchinson, (who is also a noted guitarist) is the catalyst in this two-sister and a cousin act. He has continued to paramour their success by continually giving them parental musical guidance.

"It's Daddy's life time ambition that we become the best," Sheila emphasizes.

"He wanted to get us interested in music and he did," Wanda adds.

Hutchinson said, "I tried to be truthful and honest with my daughters and I hope they will reflect this same truth and honesty in dealing with the world."

The Emotions aren't just songstresses who were born with a talent for singing. Joe Hutchinson saw to it that they developed their talents to its zenith by giving them a concrete knowledge of music.

"When we were kids, we had music classes every day for about an hour and a half," Sheila explains. "We had to study music."

"Their seriousness and knowledge of music are not only shown in their voices but the talents that branched from their father's classes. All three are songwriters."

Theresa wrote "Welcome Home" and Sheila (who wants to become a full-fledged writer and arrange one day) wrote "Go Away, Don't Touch Me." Wanda prepares lead sheets and has created her own secret system of songwriting and composing. Also, Theresa, (the quiet one) is the choreographer for the group.

Of their manager, Sheila says, "Perv's all fun when it's time for fun, but he's also all business when it's time for business."

The music business has always been a family business with the group.

The group was originally comprised of three sisters — Sheila, Wanda, and an older sister, Jeanette. The three began singing together at the ages of three, four and five respectively — on the Jerry Van Dyke Children's Gospel TV Show.

FASHION FACTS from SEARS by Villa Jones

Accessories for Fall, like ready-to-wear, take two general directions — "Civilized" and "Savage." First and more important is the "Civilized" trend to simpler, un-costume and softly-classic looks — but these are not to be interpreted as just a replay of the old-time basics. Second, the "Savage" which includes novelty and whimsy fashions — sometimes obviously for the very young, but also done in elegant versions to add individuality and interest to the new "Civilized" apparel. Throughout there is a noticeable absence of the ethnic fringes, gypsy, peasant and Indian novelties of last year.

New Fall handbags continue to stress softness. Even when simple and classic they do not revert to the rigid bags of the past. They're soft, they're roomy, but smaller than last year's... with shoulder bags again leading the way on the sports scene. Suede is fashion tops — from fine grained to shag. Smooth leathers are important complements to "Civilized" clothes along with crinkle patterns and vinyls. Hand-tooled leather is a new look, patchwork and canvas totes will be big fashion news, too. Look for the North/South shape, (it's slimmer and deeper), lace trims, interesting and unusual metal closures.

Belts are extremely important again. Jeans belts, low-slung in sturdy leathers with heavy hardware buckles (newest in cooper) and often grommet-trimmed, will be in big demand for the young jeans crowd. "Civilized" belts go to all widths, many are wide, but there's a new trend to narrower waistline belts for dresses. Buckles in general carry the fashion message: round, oblong, oval, square, open or solid-from tailored styles to whimsical designs such as animal heads and fruit motifs, to beautiful "jewelry look" antiqued gold, ceramics and enamels. Soft leather, suede and cowhide are the most important materials and earth tones the most popular colors.

Fall scarves focus on squares and longs with emphasis on new polyester twills and chiffons. Patterns spell out fall news in classic prints (houndstooth, herringbone, argyles and striped plaids), twin prints, paisleys, cross-stitch, hand-blocked looks, Moroccan and tile prints. Newsy and amusing — "ecology" prints of animals, birds, fruit, florals.

Shawls and stoles for cover-ups are a big fashion trend. Straight, triangular, shaped — in real and simulated hand-crochets, open knits, challis prints, jerseys, plaids. Many are fringed, but with shorter fringes than last year.

Choose your look — "Civilized" or "Savage" — or maybe a little of both, and put all of Fall's fashion accessories to work for you!

HOROSCOPE

LIBRA (Sept 24-Oct 23): Something you hear about a colleague will disturb you. Don't be put out by idle talk, but use your own judgment. Romance, which has been a little slow, should take a turn for the better and you will feel loved and valued.

SCORPIO (Oct 24-Nov 22): If you have to make a decision about your career, consider the facts and don't be swayed by others. Watch for a new attraction on the social scene. Travel not well-favored. Put off journeys as long as you can.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov 23-Dec 21): If things are in a turmoil at home, a neighbor may come to your rescue just as you are getting frantic. Evening will be your best time, when there will be an air of gaiety around you.

CAPRICORN (Dec 22-Jan 20): You may refuse an invitation on the advice of a friend. When you hear how things went, you will be pleased you did so. A new acquaintance has rather a serious view of life and some of his or her ideas will start you thinking.

AQUARIUS (Jan 21-Feb 19): You are in exuberant mood. But don't let it lead you into making expensive promises. This date is highly favored for those dealing in property. Personal dealings may be less happy.

PISCES (Feb 20-Mar 20): Try to delay an important decision as long as you can. Rather a quiet date socially. Avoid games of chance or gambling. Trouble could arise if you neglect minor tasks at work.

ARIES (Mar 21-April 20): An emotional date and you are very likely to have a difference of opinion with someone whose friendship you value. It would be well to keep some of your more unusual ideas to yourself. A good evening for musical entertainment.

TAURUS (April 21-May 21): A domestic problem will have to be handled with tact and understanding. A matter you had almost forgotten will be brought to your notice by an old friend. You should get quite a lot of fun dealing with the situation.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21): The stars are influencing your personal magnetism just now. If you want help or to ask for favors, now is the time to get your own way. If you go out this evening, you are likely to meet someone who will interest you.

CANCER (June 22-July 23): A number of annoyances on the home front. Try to put yourself in the place of other people and are things from their points of view. You will be noticed by those in authority.

LEO (July 24-Aug 23): Some useful information is given you by a well-wisher. A happy time for entertaining and you will have a more original idea. A new friend brings a little excitement into your life.

VIRGO (Aug 24-Sept 23): You are full of good ideas for getting a job done quickly and thoroughly. Others will be willing to let you take the lead at work. But unexpected opposition to one plan will disappoint you at home.

Today's birthday: Money matters will be improved after the first few months of this year. You should have an increase in salary and also an opportunity to make some money out of a hobby. One friend will be leaving town and you will be sad for a time.

Grambling holds 3rd spot rating

NEW YORK (UPI) — North Dakota State's lead as the No. 1 small college team in the United Press International Board of Coaches ratings poll is increasing again, but the Delaware Blue Hens are making the most waves among the nation's elite 20 teams.

ed up 21 first place votes from the 31 of 35 coaches participating to widen their lead of just one point last week 26 this week over the Arkansas State. The Indians had eight first place votes while the remaining two No. 1 nods went to Weber State and Western Kentucky.

Grambling retained its No. 3 ranking after defeating Prairie View 30-7 for victory No. 4, but Delaware moved into fourth place after knocking off major college Villanova 23-15 for its third straight win.

Eastern Michigan, which barely squeaked by Idaho State, 23-22, improved a notch to fifth place and Western Kentucky jumped from 13th to 10th after whipping East Tennessee State 26-7.

Ray seeks trial

JACKSON, Tenn. — An Appeals Court has taken under advisement the contention of attorneys for James Earl Ray that the confessed slayer of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. "is entitled to his day in court."

Atty. Robert Livingston of Memphis made the statement here in a 15-minute hearing before a three-judge panel of the Tennessee Court of Criminal Appeals.

Livingston, assisted by Bernard Finsterwald of Washington asked the court to either grant Ray a new trial or hold an evidentiary hearing. A ruling is not expected for several months.

Ray contends that he was pressured into pleading guilty by famed Defense Atty. Percy Foreman, the counsel on whose advice Ray waived his right to trial.

Finsterwald told the court that Ray now serving a 99-year prison term at Tennessee's maximum security Brushy Mountain Prison, has two letters from Foreman in which the attorney offered to reduce his fee to "a mere $165,000." The condition for the reduced fee, according to Finsterwald, was "If you (Ray) do nothing embarrassing in court."

"The famed civil rights leader and Nobel Peace Prize winner was cut down by rifle fire at a motel in nearby Memphis on April 4, 1968. The 41-year-old Ray, on the advice of Foreman, entered a guilty plea to the murder on March 10, 1969.

"That man (Ray) never had a hearing," Livingston told Judges Mark Walker, William S. Russell and Charles S. O'Brien.

"The public deserves an explanation of the murder of Dr. King," Livingston said. "James Earl Ray wants the public to have that explanation."

Shelby County Asst. Atty. Gen. Robert H. Roberts argued against a new trial for the assassin.

"There has got to be a finality to these things sometime, and this case has reached that point," Roberts told the Court.

Students take new positions

More than 50 students from Freed-Hardeman College, Henderson, Tenn., will serve as teachers aides and social work aides according to Dr. Leonard Johnson, sponsor of the local chapter of the Student National Education Association.

SNEA, an affiliate of the National Education Association, has as its purpose nurturing interests in the teaching profession.

"We provide a real life-learning situation for aspiring teachers," Dr. Johnson said. These students who voluntarily give several hours weekly, gain invaluable experience as they assist with the actual grade they desire to teach.

Steve Walker of Martin, president of FHC's organization pointed out that for the first time this year, SNEA students who are interested in doing social work will be able to do so.

Several students will be working with Western State Psychiatric Hospital and with the office of Economic Opportunity in Henderson," Steve said.

Freed-Hardeman students take an active role in the classroom, both in teaching lessons and in individualized instruction.

"We feel our students are a tremendous boon to our local teachers," Dr. Johnson said, adding that several calls requesting aides had already been received this year.

Dr. B. J. Naylor, chairman of the department of education and psychology, feels the teacher aide program is a proving ground for undecided students.

"If we can assist students in making their professional decisions early in their college careers, we've done them a service," Dr. Naylor said.

Assisting Steve with the FHC group this fall are Richard Calloway of Fayette, Ala., vice president; Carol Hamilton of Trenton, secretary; and Kathy Masterson of Florence, Ala., treasurer.

MSU's Acey closes communication gap

Many psychologists, sociologists and economists agree that the basis of many of the problems facing our country today is communication between various groups. Some experts feel that the most serious communication breakdown is between ethnic, racial and religious groups.

In an effort to overcome some of these communication barriers, the Speech and Drama Dept., of Memphis State University has placed into its curriculum a course in "intercultural communications."

The course is taught by David Acey and Bob Finney. These two young men have dedicated their careers to teaching students the art of communication.

David enrolled at Memphis State University as a freshman and became involved in the black students' attempts to be heard. During that period he served as president of the Black Students Association and is sincere in his attempts to further understanding between the races. He is also involved in trying to get more black courses offered on campus, such as the Black Rhetoric class he is currently teaching.

Bob received his BA in speech and art from Marietta College in Ohio, his MA in psychology and speech and his PhD in communication theory and research from Ohio State University. He was an instructor at all black Shaw University in Raleigh, N.C. for three years, and at 36, dislikes being labeled a "white liberal."

The purpose of the course is to teach seven black students and six white students to communicate with each other.

"It's a big assignment," said David who has assisted in the class before. "But I think we really accomplished something in other semesters when the course had been offered."

"Actually the catalog description doesn't say black and white communication. It says interracial communication," Bob stated. "The big problem is communications between blacks and whites, that's what we're dealing with. But I certainly don't want to exclude other races and their communications problems."

"The course is set up as a rap course and for the first few class meetings, it was strictly rapping to each other. But there was communication," Bob stated.

David's goals for the course are to "acquaint students going out in society with communication barriers. I also want to expose a teacher to just what they're going to do

WW-II objector gets 29 years in asylum

A 35-year-old black man who refused to fight in World War II was confined to a Philadelphia mental asylum and forgotten for 29 years, according to an article in Ebony magazine.

George Elder, a 35-year-old conscientious objector in 1942 who said he wouldn't fight because it was "Roosevelt's war" was put in the Philadelphia State Hospital by a Federal judge.

Ebony said that the hospital, once known as "one of the worst hell-holes in America," literally swallowed Elder up and became his permanent home.

One psychiatrist at the hospital conceded to author Sandy Grady, reporting in the current (Oct.) issue of the magazine, "George Elder was ahead of his time. Today he'd be on TV carrying an anti-war placard. But 30 years ago he was different — so they said he was insane."

However, author Grady notes, in the same month that Elder was ordered to the asylum, Hollywood actor Lew Ayres was sent to a C. O. work camp on the West Coast. "George Elder had no relatives, friends or money for lawyers."

"They made a mistake," Elder said without bitterness. "But it's too late now. I'm too old to leave. I'm going to die right here."

Elder said that "I thought I was too old for the draft at 35. Anyway, I wasn't going to the Army. I was a pacifist. . . who hated guns and wars. . . And I didn't want to fight for a country that treated Indians and black men like America."

Elder, who is part-Negro, part-Cherokee Indian, told the Federal judge that the U.S. owed him $346 for his Indian rights. When he had finished talking, he was sent to Byberry and. "They put me to work in the bean fields. My relatives were all dead or scattered. Nobody could help me. I knew they made a mistake, but my traveling days were over."

Diagnosed as a paranoid schizophrenic, Elder was put into the asylum "with epileptics and wild people who screamed at you and wanted to fight you." At the time of his incarceration, a psychiatric report about Elder could find little evidence that he was a menace to society or to himself.

Blindness is Stevie's insight

Stevie Wonder, who is currently in California recording several albums for Motown Records, may have been born physically blind 21 years ago in Saginaw, Mich., but he's managed to fill his life with more musical and artistic vision than most of his sighted counterparts.

A perfect example of Stevie's triple threat talent is seen in his latest album, "Where I'm Coming From." Not only did Stevie and his wife, Syretta Wright, compose all the songs on the album, Stevie also plays all the instruments, sings all the background parts, arranges and produced the album which contains the hit single, "If You Really Love Me."

An impressive feat for anyone, especially for one supposedly "handicapped" by lack of sight. But Stevie is quick to point out that hand caps are what one makes them.

"People have so many distorted ideas about blind people and their supposedly 'limited' range of activities," says Stevie. "Many people seriously believe that my daily schedule, for example, consists of listening to my music and just sitting around or sleeping when no one is leading me around by the hand.

"Man, if they only knew how aware and concerned and involved in life blind people are. In many instances, more so than their sighted brothers. To my way of thinking there are many ways of being handicapped and they certainly aren't all physical. One can be intellectually handicapped, and the really biggest handicap I see around me every day is in people who lack a sense of communication."

Stevie's point is well taken, however, one still wonders about the obvious obstacles incurred during a normal day of an internationally famous entertainer who happens to be blind: air travel, logistics of hotel living and a myriad of other things sighted take for granted.

"Now, I'm not going to say flat out that it's easy by any means," admits Stevie. "But there is a definite pattern to getting on and off planes, checking into and out of hotels, etc. there are very definite routines which are followed by all people, sighted or blind."

"And if you never thought most hotels are pretty much the same when it comes to content and layout, just start checking them out and you'll see it's true. They're all basically alike, as far as plans are concerned. I feel absolutely no embarrassment at all about holding on lightly to someone's elbow and walking a little to the right and rear of them. I can get through crowds almost as quickly as anyone else that way."

To say the least, Stevie has no inhibitions or complexes about his blindness. And neither does he harbor any bitterness against any person or deity because of it.

"A bitter attitude is a totally unrealistic one," he says. "and anyone who resorts to that obviously lacks the mentality to cope with his particular problem. His making his disability an obstacle, I think that when a person exhibits bitterness, he is saying in effect that he's angry because he

Congress cites Jackson Five

Swings a big one...

Roberto Clemente, Pittsburgh Pirates' superstar who recently became a Ditzler Automotive refinishes jobber in Puerto Rico, receives a replica of his bat made of polystyrene plastic from Robinson F. Barker, board chairman of PPG Industries, and Kathleen Moran, Miss Torch of the United Fund.

The Jackson 5, one of the first black singing groups in the history of show business to have their own weekly network television series (ABC) "The Jackson 5 Show" on Saturdays, were cited simultaneously by the House of Representatives and the United States Senate recently.

The five brothers; Jackie, Tito, Jermaine, Marlon and Michael, whose ages range from 12 to 20 were honored by Congressman Raymond Madden in the House of Representatives and Senators Birch Bayh and Vance Hartke of Indiana. The congressional honors accorded to the Jackson 5, were for their recent ABC Television Special, "Goin' Back to Indiana," a salute to their home State.

In his remarks to the Senate, Senator Birch Bayh stated: "The Jackson 5 have captured the imagination of today's youngsters, especially black youth, as no musical group since the Beatles in 1964. The Jackson 5, youngest and most successful singing group in the history of Motown Record Corporation, have become a symbol of pride among black youth who can readily identify and relate to them."

Earlier this year, Mayor Richard Gordon Hatcher of Gary, Indiana, honored the Jackson 5 for their efforts and contributions in the building programs of today's inner-city youth.

As Congressman Raymond Madden stated: "The Jackson 5 are not show business children — although music has surrounded them all their lives. They are just like kids that everyone in this body (House of Representatives) has come across at one time or another — young people who declare with love and humility that American cannot give up hope on youth."

"And they are special for Indiana — a State that has been celebrated for generations as playing an important role in America's cultural picture. The Jackson 5 are as Hoosier as Notre Dame, Purdue and the Indianapolis 500."

LICORICE ADDICTS

Ex-smokers switch to all kinds of substitutes. Like licorice drops. It sounds harmless enough. But sometimes it isn't.

According to a recent report, one man was rushed to the Bryn Mawr Hospital in Pennsylvania as an emergency patient. He had most of the signs of a heart attack, but diagnostic tests showed no attack had in fact occurred. However, the heart muscle was behaving badly. The man's body chemistry was too alkaline, and the potassium in his blood was at a critically low level. There were also symptoms of kidney failure.

After 24 hours of tests, the patient happened to mention that he had quit cigarettes three months earlier and now ate licorice drops instead. Surprised by the serious interest of the examining physicians, he said he had been eating about a quarter of a pound every day for months.

As a result of this case, the word is being spread through the medical world to watch out for licorice addiction among ex-smokers. Licorice depletes the amount of potassium in the blood that is necessary to keep the heart pumping.

Once the diagnosis of "licorice intoxication" was confirmed, it took 33 days in the hospital to restore the normal level of potassium in the man's blood. But at the end of that time, all his symptoms were gone.

Too much of any one substitute for cigarette smoking can have ominous repercussions. But quitting smoking accompanied by sensible substitutes, is an essential step toward health.

IMPLANTING MEDICINE
Taking medication is a daily routine for millions of people. Soon some of these medications may be implanted internally.

Today some TB patients must swallow as many as 30 pills a day to treat active disease. Some diabetics take insulin daily. People with allergies get weekly shots before each pollen season.

Now researchers are developing devices that can be implanted in the body to release chemicals at a steady rate over long periods. An ingenious, implantable pump about the size of a hockey puck has been developed by Perry J. Blackshear, a pre-med student at the University of Minnesota, who worked on the project with the department of mechanical engineering and surgery. The pump, which is made of light stainless steel, releases medication through special tubes directly into the blood vessel or organ. Tested successfully on dogs but not yet on humans, the device, researchers predict, will be useful to administer potent anti-cancer drugs and insulin.

At the Alza Corporation in Palo Alto, California, researchers have already tested on humans a plastic wafer the size of a teardrop that is placed inside the lower eyelid of glaucoma patients to release medication.

Tomorrow the medication for many diseases, including TB, may be implanted directly in the body. But tomorrow may be far off. In the meantime, TB patients can help treat active disease and even prevent an outbreak of the disease by taking pills. To find out more about TB and how to treat it today, check with your tuberculosis and respiratory disease association. They have the facts.

Ethel's Cookery

by Ethel Moore

If you're a hostess who loves to entertain guests with interesting, international specialties, you can have an "expensive" Chinese party for pennies. Combine good cooking and mealtime pleasure that are the traditions of Chinese families in this outstanding, low-cost specialty—Tuna Chinese Pancakes. The superb tuna-vegetable filling—made in minutes—is enhanced with mushrooms and water chestnuts, and the production of putting filling and pancakes together is one you can do right at the table, as they do in fine restaurants. The pancakes should be eaten right out of hand, but the uninitiated may resort to a fork. If time is too short to make the pancakes, you can serve the tuna filling as a separate entree over fluffy cooked or fried rice.

TUNA CHINESE PANCAKES

- 3 cans (6½ or 7 ounces each) tuna in vegetable oil
- 1 cup chopped onion
- 1 cup diagonally sliced celery
- 1 package (10 ounces) frozen chopped spinach, thawed and well drained
- 1 can (6 ounces) sliced mushrooms, drained
- 1 can (5 ounces) water chestnuts, drained and sliced
- 1 cup cornstarch
- 3 cups cold chicken broth
- 2 tablespoons soy sauce
- 1 tablespoon prepared mustard
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 12 2" scallion pieces

Drain 2 tablespoons oil from tuna into large skillet; heat. Add onion and celery, and cook until tender. Add tuna, spinach, mushrooms and water chestnuts; cook 2 minutes. Blend cornstarch with about ¼ cup chicken broth and stir into tuna-vegetable mixture with remaining chicken broth. Add soy sauce, mustard and salt. Cook, stirring constantly, over medium heat until mixture thickens and comes to a boil. Divide mixture among 12 thin pancakes*, place pieces of scallion in center, fold up bottom edge; bring over sides, slide into onion ring or secure with food pick. Or serve mixture over hot cooked rice. YIELD: 12 pancake rolls; 6 servings.

*Pancakes

- 1 cup water
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 1 cup flour
- Salad oil

Beat together eggs and water in small bowl. Add flour and salt and beat until smooth. Brush a 7- or 8-inch skillet with a thin film of salad oil; heat. Add 3 tablespoons batter and tilt to cover bottom of skillet. Cook until lightly browned; turn and cook other side. Repeat with remaining batter, brushing with additional oil as necessary. Stack pancakes between sheets of waxed paper; keep warm until ready to serve. YIELD: 12 servings.

Southern eyes Grambling mark

ROY JONES — 6-3, 270-pound junior from Memphis, Tenn. is a Southern University junior defensive tackle, and a two-year starter for Coach Al Tabor's Jaguars. He is having his best season this time around. Jones, a native of Memphis, Tenn. has made 14 unassisted tackles in three games and has dropped opposing quarterbacks twice for losses.

Southern University (La.) ranks second among the nation's predominantly black colleges in the number of football players sent to the professional ranks, a recent survey of the National Football League common draft over the past five years shows.

Southern, with 14 active players as of Sept. 14, 1971, trails only Grambling College, with 21, in active players from black colleges. Following the two Louisiana schools are, in order, Jackson State College with 12, Tennessee State University with 12, Alcorn A&M with ten, Texas Southern University with nine, Florida A&M University with eight, Maryland State College with eight, Prairie View College with eight and Morgan State College with seven.

In the overall list of colleges with the highest number of NFL draftees, Grambling ranks fourth, Tennessee State is fifth. Southern is tied for sixteenth and Texas Southern is tied for nineteenth.

Grambling has had 34 players drafted over the past five years, including first-round choices Frank Lewis and Richard Harris this year. Tennessee State has had 31 players drafted, including four first-round picks. Southern has had 23 players picked, including first-round choice Isaiah Robertson this year.

Texas Southern has had 22 players drafted over the five-year period, including first-round pick Ken Burroughs.

The University of Southern California leads the list of total and first-round draftees. The Trojans have sent 43 players to the pro ranks since 1967, including eleven first-round draftees, and the University of Houston, which has sent 35 players to the pros. Elmo Wright has been Houston's lone first-round draft pick within the past five years.

Fall fashion affair...

Ethel Davis, Marscell Edwards and Leonora Smith capture some of the most popular young fashion looks they favor for the fall season from the current fashion collection at F.W. Woolworth. Ethel chooses knit and teams a striped knit skirt with matching vest. Marscell favors navy plaid slacks and long tunic top. With it she wears a navy blue long-sleeve crewneck shirt and navy floppy hat. Leonora likes suede and her choice is a multi-color abstract design for dress and matching pants.

James Warren wins top post

HIGH POINT, N. C. — B&C Associates, Inc., a public relations, advertising and marketing research firm dealing primarily with the intricacies of the "Black Market" has announced the promotion of James C. Warren to the position of assistant to the president of the firm.

Warren formerly served as manager of the company's Washington, D. C. office where he coordinated the company's activities in and around the nation's capital and the Northeast.

The company, directed by President James E. Mack from its High Point, North Carolina headquarters, offers counseling and consulting services to many nationally known companies and organizations resulting in positive action programs that benefit both the affected companies and the minority community. Warren, an his new role, will assist Mack in carrying out these functions. The firm, founded in 1960, was formerly headed by Robert J. Brown, now Special Assistant to President Nixon.

Warren began his career with the firm as a researcher moving from there to account executive and subsequently branch manager. Warren, a native of Burlington, N. C., attended the public schools of Winston-Salem and graduated from Wake Forest University, majoring in communications. He belongs to the Public Relations Society of America and the National Association of Marketing Developers and actively supports the programs of the Urban League, and United Negro College Scholarship Fund.

Wilkins hails court blasting segregation

The decision of United States District Judge Stephen J. Roth striking down de facto segregation in the public schools of Detroit was hailed by Roy Wilkins, executive director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, as "a significant breakthrough in the struggle to eliminate northern-style Jim Crow education."

Judge Roth's ruling, Wilkins said, "not only finds the Detroit Board of Education culpable in the segregated pattern of school attendance; it also pins final responsibility upon the State of Michigan, since states are obligated to provide educational equality to their residents. Added to a long list of judicial opinions, the Roth decision virtually cuts any remaining ground from under school boards which plead that they can not remedy segregation since they were not the authors of it."

The NAACP leader cited Judge Roth's opinion: "Under the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution and laws of the State of Michigan, the responsibility for providing educational opportunity to all children on constitutional terms is ultimately that of the State. . . State officials, including all of the defendants, are charged under the Michigan Constitution with the duty of providing pupils with an education without discrimination with respect to race."

According to Judge Roth: Governmental action and inaction at all levels — Federal, state and local — has combined with those of private organizations, such as lending institutions, real estate association and brokerage firms, to establish and maintain the pattern of residential segregation throughout the Detroit metropolitan area. . .

Further, " . . . proof that a pattern of racially segregated schools has existed for a considerable period of time amounts to a showing of racial classification by the state. . .

Further, "The Board's building upon housing segregation violates the Fourteenth Amendment."

"The case, brought by Negro parents and joined by the NAACP's Detroit Branch, exemplifies what can be done if adequate financial resources are brought to bear upon the factual and legal research and upon the legal analysis needed to demonstrate the validity of the complaint," Wilkins said.

Rev. Dill rebuilds his church

FAYETTE, Alabama — Even though many of the former members of McConnell Chapel AME Zion Church have gone to other parts of the county, seeking better opportunities, the Rev. William T. Dill, who took over the pastorate three years ago, found an opportunity to broaden the operations of the church and has done just that.

Since joining he has built a new edifice, with modern conveniences and put in equipment and furnishings. He has remodeled the parsonage and added two rooms. The parsonage now has a newly-installed plumbing system.

He terms the addition of many new members as the crowning feature of his endeavors. The officers and members feel that he was sent to Fayette for such a time as this. They boast of the fact that he furnished the kind of leadership that enabled them to finance all of the work with ease and cooperation.

Church building, and renovating are not new to Rev. Dill. He was able to pay off a mortgage of $1200.00 at Rising Star AME Zion Church, Birmingham, prior to coming here.

Catholic Chargers limelight

Listen! ! ! Soul folk, and you shall hear, about a cool smooth column that will bring you cheer.

Hi! Toni Johnson and Kim Kilmore are our names — Sock'n'g soul news from CATHOLIC is our game. All around our den is quiet and cool and keeping your tab on everything is our rule. Today we are wondering about what kind of world we are living in. Questions that we're seeking solutions to are: Will the war cease? Why not give peace a chance? What about the future? The Generation Gap? Where does the answer lie? Maybe, the solution is to become involved with problems of our society and stop taking the attitude of not caring about what happens. Another solution is to let Love, Peace and Understanding take its place. We say to you, Can you dig it world?

HAPPENINGS:

The happenings around our school, aren't so sad, because we've got soul and we're Super Bad. This season, the Spotlight Beam shines on our mighty and powerful football team, and of course the tackle, backs and the mighty quarterback fought the fight to keep our scores uptight. So we say to you; Jerry Bates, David Warren, Eldridge Watkins, Ronnie Edwards, Dave Martello and Michael Wesley, "Keep On Pushing" and "Move Up a Little Higher" because we know you all have that Super Soul Power, so may success follow you until the end! ! !

On September 28th, the Seniors held a groovy presentation, better known as the Freshman initiation. The event was held at Overton Park. When you go to school, know the rules and can play your cool, you are "Definitely Together". Yes, we're talking about our Bold-Big-Boss and BAD Seniors who are uptight, alright and out of sight. For they have the fever, they're hot and they can't be stopped! While taking a stroll thru their minds, we find some of those guys "n" gals who are talking their talk and looking forward to walking that walk such as: Wilhemina Fogleman, Lee Allen, Cheryl Flowers, Melvin Daniels, Cherill Taylor, Judy Claxton, David Warren, Larry Bailey, Evelyn Graham, Edward McClore, Ronnie Edwards, Clyde Wherry, Cheryl Moore, Margaret Lewis, Rayna Crawford, Karl Turner, Jonathan Ivy, Linda Graham, Willie Lewis, Reuben Mosley, Ozell Wray, John Bullock, Johnny Curtis, Othella Swayer, Barbara Wooten, Avis Walton, Joyce Edenton, Karla Watkins, Ambrie Bridgeforth, Victor Mitchell, Melvin Purdy, Dwight Woods, Marvin Sims, Tony Thompson, Phillip Boone, Cheryl Geeter, Jan Crawford and Toni Johnson.

The Juniors are better known as the "Happening Gang" because they are dynamically and definitely doing their own thing. Yeah, they are Black, Beautiful and surely enough groovy. To mention a few of these melting pots are: Deborah Lewis, Jerry Bates, Faye Cain, Irby Fogleman, Lonnie Cooke, Debra Collins, Constance Clark, Deborah Reeves, Ralph Stegall, Alison Thompson, Mildred Riley, Debra Kaufman, Tina Crawford, Pat Kinkle and Kenneth Northcross.

Some of our Soulful Sophisticated Sophs that can be doing their own thang on the Catholic Charger Friendship Train are: Valerie McKinney, Jeffrey Peters, Kim Gilmore, Yolita Robinson, Sam Peyton, Barry Petty, Sherrye Reeves, Lonette Riley, Gerald Greene, Linda Mosley, Ruby Harris, Ronnie Redmond, Janice Hoog, Rhonda Wright, Daylene Bradburn, Sandra Taylor, Reginald DeWalt, Charlton Johnson, Joseph Smith, Donna Ezell, Angela Fletcher, Thrasis Matthews, Beverly Clark, Jerry Booker, Mark Williams, Verlon Williamson, Clarice Nelson, Ronald Reed, Eric Watkins, Jackie Brownlee, Rickey Stewart.

PROS OPEN SEASON

For more than a month the Memphis Pros have been in preparation to pull the curtain on their 1971-72 American Basketball Association season. Several storm warnings later the Pros will start their second season in Memphis after moving here from New Orleans. The Floridians and the Virginia Squires are booked for Thursday and Saturday of this week. The Pros will tip off at 7:30 p.m. on week nights and 7 p.m. on Sundays this season.

CHAMPS SIGN JONES

When Jimmy Jones became a holdout the very worst the Pros expected was for the All-ABA guard to play out his option this campaign. It appeared that Jones was about to end his holdout when the Pros management learned that the ex-Grambling star had signed a contract with the Utah Stars, defending ABA champions. The action naturally produced vibrations which registered very high on seismographs in the offices of the Pros and league president Jack Dolph.

A complaint was filed by Pros general manager Charles Cavanagro and Dolph promised to investigate the matter and make a ruling when all the facts had been gathered. Jones, aided by his agent, contends that he became a free agent when the Pros failed to notify him in time that the club was picking up his option. Instead the Pros were eight days late, removing the restriction that would have forced Jones to play the remainder of the year with the Pros with a cut in salary. Utah general manager Vince Boryla removing the restriction that would have forced Jones another team took advantage of the loop hole in negotiations with the Pros.

Now the Pros will be forced to play rookie Johnny Neumann in an attempt to fill the vacancies at guard left by the departure of starters Jimmy and Steve Jones. Steve played out his option last season and signed with Dallas. The Jones boys led the Pros in scoring with Jimmy's 19.6 average second to Steve.

CELTICS RALLY LATE

The ABA in general has fared extremely well in exhibitions with the more established National Basketball Association and the Pros won the first half with the fabled Boston Celtics last week before 5,125 in the Mid-South Coliseum. Unfortunately for the Pros they misjudged the finish line as Boston put on a fourth quarter finishing burst to swamp the Pros, 115-94.

According to the Celtics the ABA ball made the difference for the Pros in the first half as they took a halftime lead of 40-39 on a three pointer by Sweet Charlie Williams. This was the home debut of Neumann who is billed as the rich rookie in the Pros' yearbook. Neumann got the first basket of the game and led all scorers with 24. Neumann was understandably nervous at the outset as he made several floor mistakes, and when the Pros grabbed a 50-42 lead in the third quarter the youngster was benched as he rushed several shots which helped to dissipate the Pros' lead.

In the dressing room Neumann praised the Celtics. "Any other team would have cracked when we got hot in the third quarter." Celtics coach Tom Heinsohn said the Pros lacked cohesion but Neumann was going to be great. "I'm going to have to start playing like a pro so Bobby (Warren) and Charlie (Williams) won't have to feel they have to make up for my mistakes," Neumann added.

Most of the Pros recognized that Boston's experience was the dominant factor in the game. "They don't let you get the backdoor pass easily and Havlicek stays on the move," is how Wilbert Jones analyzed the victors. Jones and Gerald Govan shared 35 rebounds, topping Rookie of the Year Dave Cowens who had 15 for Boston. Jo Jo White led the Celtics with 21 with Cowens and Havlicek dropping in 19 and 17 respectively.

The Pros have not won since beating Pittsburgh in their opening exhibition but coach Babe McCarthy feels the Pros have learned much from these defeats and should be ready for this week's opener. Fans will have the opportunity to see Charley Scott with a year of experience behind him. The Virginia sharpshooter has already scored 52 points in a single game this year.

LOUISVILLE EDGES MSU

"We are just snakebit," cried coach Billy "Spook" Murphy following the second defeat in as many games with the Louisville Cardinals. The Memphis State mentor also pointed out that his team played Santa Claus again with gift points set up by Tigers costly mistakes. And to add insult to the "Beat Louisville Day" the smallest player on the Cardinals' roster led the visitors to the 26-20 conquest.

Howard Stevens, a 5-5 165 junior from Harrisonburg, Va., carried the ball on 30 rushes for 175 yards. His total output, which included three pass receptions for 48 yards and 16 yards on a kickoff runback, came to 239 hard earned yards. Stevens' 61 yard gallop for a TD late in the fourth quarter clinched the game for the Cards. When Stevens heard in the dressing room that he had been called on 30 times he was amazed. The previous week Stevens carried only 14 times against Drake. "I'll take the 175 yards but it will take the whirlpool to get the scores out," the scabbard said with a wide grin. He praised Memphis State as having the finest hitting team that Louisville has faced. The Cards are now 2-1-1 while Memphis State, who plays Utah State Saturday in Logan, will be looking for victory number two after three consecutive losses.
